DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. This Office action addresses claims 7, 10, 13, and 17. The claims contain allowable subject matter; however they are rejected under 35 USC 112 over previously-made and new grounds of rejection. Accordingly, this action is made final.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

3. Claims 7, 10, 13, and 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

Claims 7 and 17 recite that "the negative electrode has a density of 1.6 g/cm<sup>3</sup>." However, pages 15-17 of the instant specification disclose that is it the negative electrode active material that has this density, not the electrode per se. Accordingly, the claim language is considered to constitute new matter into the application. Note: the claims were amended to obviate the previous ground of rejection regarding the positive electrode active material density; however the limitations regarding the negative electrode were not amended.

Claims 7 and 17 recite the step of "welding an outer end of the wound electrode." This limitation is not adequately supported by the application as originally filed. The closest support is found at page 3 of the specification, which states that the "outermost end of the packaging film is welded with heat under reduced pressure so that the opening portions are closed." Correction is required. See also rejection under 35 USC 112 second paragraph below.

4. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

5. Claims 7, 10, 13 and 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. As noted above, the claims recite "welding an outer end of the wound electrode" as part of the sealing step. This limitation, as written, is indefinite since it is not clear how the outer end of the "wound electrode" is welded. It is suggested that the limitation be deleted, or amended to recite that an outermost end of the packaging film is welded so that opening portion(s) of the packaging film are closed, as disclosed in the specification.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 7, 10, 13, and 17 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 1st and 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action.

7. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

Independent claims 7 and 17 have been amended to recite that the film pack includes a nylon layer, an aluminum layer, and a polypropylene layer. Kumeuchi, the closest prior art, discloses a plastic bag functioning as an insulator into which the wound electrode is inserted prior to heat-treatment, but does not teach or fairly suggest a metal (aluminum) layer in addition to the plastic. Accordingly, the claims contain allowable subject matter.
